

Santos
Martinez®

One of the purest, most expressive musical sounds is that of the traditional nylon string classical guitar.

It is a sound that epitomises the phrase 'it's all in the fingers', a tone resulting from the direct connection of guitarist and instrument.

If you desire an instrument that will take you anywhere from the bedroom to concert halls, the award-winning, critically-acclaimed range of Santos Martinez classical and electro-classical guitars offers a combination of rich, sweet-toned performance and easy playability at a range of price points.

A combination of premium-grade materials like tone-enhancing solid spruce or cedar tops, and features such as USA-made Fishman electronics, take Santos Martinez instruments to the next level making them ideal for the serious student and seasoned player alike.

If classical tones, looks and feel are your thing, try Santos Martinez today.

PRINCIPANTE

Designed for the more serious beginner, Principante features a spruce top for superior tone, a comfortable and easy to play neck profile, with an easy action ideally suited to younger hands. The resonant sapele body produces a responsive, vibrant, warm tone and rewards fledgling players.
